

Residential Care Service Voucher Scheme for the Elderly
Table on Co-payment Levels (Care and Attention Place)
(with effect from 01.04.2025)

Level	Upper Income Limit		Asset Limit <sup>1</sup>	User Co-payment		Government Subsidy ($) <sup>3</sup>
	MMDHI <sup>2</sup> for one-person household	Amount ($) <sup>2</sup>	Amount ($)	Percentage	Amount ($) <sup>3</sup>
0	≤50%	≤5,200	54,000	0%	0	≤16,764
1	≤75%	≤7,800	572,000	10%	≤ 1,676	≤ 15,088
2	≤100%	≤10,400		20%	≤ 3,353	≤ 13,411
3	≤125%	≤13,000		30%	≤ 5,029	≤ 11,735
4	≤150%	≤15,600		40%	≤ 6,706	≤ 10,058
5	≤200%	≤20,800		50%	≤ 8,382	≤ 8,382
6	≤300%	≤31,200		62.5%	≤ 10,478	≤ 6,286
7	No upper limit		No upper limit	75%	≤ 12,573	≤ 4,191

1. Asset limit will be adjusted annually pegging to the limit for singleton elderly persons under Comprehensive Social Security Assistance Scheme and singleton elderly persons applying for public rental housing.
2. According to the Quarterly Report on General Household Survey of the Census and Statistics Department (third quarter of 2024), Median Monthly Domestic Household Income (MMDHI) for one-person household is HK$10,400.
3. Co-payment amount for voucher holders under different co-payment levels will be adjusted according to the annual adjustment of the voucher value. From 1 August 2020 onwards, recognised service providers can charge voucher services according to individual homes' actual monthly home fee with voucher value as a ceiling price; thus the amounts of co-payment and government subsidy may be different with those as specified in the above table.