CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background

- 1.1.1 Residential Care Homes (Nursing Homes) for the Elderly (RCHE(NH)s) are established for providing residential care service and facilities for elderly persons in need. They should be given due respect and concern for a living with dignity and ageing with peace of mind.
- 1.1.2 The Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance (Cap. 459) commenced operation on 1 April 1995 and came into full implementation on 1 June 1996, for regulating the residential care service of RCHEs through a licensing scheme administered by the Director of Social Welfare (DSW) with a view to meeting an acceptable standard. The Residential Care Homes Legislation (Miscellaneous Amendments) Ordinance 2023 (Ord. No. 12 of 2023) (Amendment Ordinance) was gazetted on 16 June 2023 to enhance the monitoring and quality of residential care homes. The majority of the Amendment Ordinance will come into effect from 16 June 2024 whereas the requirements in relation to staffing and area of floor space per resident will be implemented in phases.
- 1.1.3 The Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation (Cap. 459 sub. leg. A) is made under section 23 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance, stipulating the requirements for the operation, management and supervision of RCHEs.
- 1.1.4 This Code of Practice is issued by the DSW under section 22 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance, setting out principles, procedures, guidelines and standards for the operation, keeping, management or other control of RCHEs for compliance by operators.
- 1.1.5 As the Hospitals, Nursing Homes and Maternity Homes Registration Ordinance (Cap. 165) has been replaced by the Private Healthcare Facilities Ordinance (Cap. 633) gazetted on 30 November 2018, the regulatory regime for the nursing homes for the elderly originally registered under Cap. 165 shall be transferred to Cap. 459 and its subsidiary legislation. In this regard, the types of residential care home regulated under Cap. 459 is extended to cover nursing homes with effect from 2 January 2020. Nursing homes under licence must comply with the requirements stipulated in the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance and its subsidiary legislation, as well as the relevant Codes of Practice issued by the DSW (including this Code of Practice).

1.1.6 The standards, specifications and statutory provisions cited in this Code of Practice are those in force on or before 16 June 2024. Readers of this Code of Practice should check whether there are any subsequent amendments to these provisions. For reference to the relevant statutory provisions, please visit the “Hong Kong e-Legislation” (<https://www.elegislation.gov.hk>).

1.1.7 Under section 2(1) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance, an RCHE means – any premises at which more than 5 persons who have attained the age of 60 years are habitually received for the purposes of care while resident therein.

1.1.8 Under section 3 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance, the Ordinance shall not apply to –

- (a) any residential care home maintained and controlled by the Government or the Housing Authority;
- (b) any residential care home used or intended for use solely for the purpose of the medical treatment of persons requiring medical treatment;
- (c) a treatment centre as defined by section 2 of the Drug Dependent Persons Treatment and Rehabilitation Centres (Licensing) Ordinance (Cap.566); or
- (d) any residential care home or type or description of residential home excluded by the DSW by order published in the Gazette.

1.1.9 The Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance and the Residential Care Homes (Persons with Disabilities) Ordinance (Cap. 613) are mutually exclusive. Based on this principle, the operator of any home which fits into the definitions of a residential care home under the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance and the Residential Care Homes (Persons with Disabilities) Ordinance is required to hold only 1 valid licence under either of the Ordinances, yet shall not apply for a licence under both Ordinances. If a licence issued under the Residential Care Homes

(Elderly Persons) Ordinance is for the time being in force in respect of the residential care home, and the operator intends to switch over to operate a residential care home for Persons with Disabilities (RCHD), the operator shall, after being advised by the DSW that the application under the Residential Care Homes (Persons with Disabilities) Ordinance is approved, surrender to the DSW the first-mentioned licence which will be cancelled on the issue of a licence under the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance. If the licence of the residential care home is an e-l licence, the operator shall submit a Home Closure Application and surrender the first-mentioned licence through the Online Platform for Residential Care Homes for the Elderly and Persons with Disabilities (the Online Platform) (<https://lrbop.swd.gov.hk>). Similarly, if a licence issued under the Residential Care Homes (Persons with Disabilities) Ordinance is for the time being in force in respect of the residential care home, and the operator intends to switch over to operate an RCHE, the operator shall, after being advised by the DSW that the application under the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance is approved, surrender to the DSW the first-mentioned licence which will be cancelled on the issue of a licence under the Residential Care Homes (Persons with Disabilities) Ordinance. If the licence of the residential care home is an e-l licence, the operator shall submit a Home Closure Application and surrender the first-mentioned licence through the Online Platform.

- 1.1.10 Operators of RCHE(NH)s should study this Code of Practice in detail, as well as the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance and the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation. The DSW may refuse to issue a licence to the applicant under section 8(3)(c) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance if it appears that the premises used for the residential care home do not comply with any requirements relating to design, construction, fire precautions, health, sanitation and safety set out in this Code of Practice. Any person who intends to operate an RCHE(NH) may contact the Licensing Office of Residential Care Homes for the Elderly (LORCHE) of the Social Welfare Department (SWD) (Telephone no.: 3184 0729 or 2834 7414) (Address: 6/F, THE HUB, 23 Yip Kan Street, Wong Chuk Hang, Hong Kong) for advice or consultation.
- 1.1.11 Compliance with the requirements of this Code of Practice does not exempt the operator or any other person from the liabilities, obligations and requirements imposed under other ordinances or the common law.

1.2 Licence

- 1.2.1 Under section 6 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance, any person who operates, keeps, manages or otherwise has control of an RCHE shall hold a licence that has been issued under section 8(2)(a) or renewed under section 9 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance in respect of that RCHE and is for the time being in force.
- 1.2.2 Under section 8(3)(d)(i) and (ii) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance, the DSW may refuse to issue a licence to the applicant if the proposed name of the residential care home is unsuitable or is the same as or similar to –
- (a) the name of an RCHE in respect of which a licence is in force or has been suspended, surrendered or cancelled ; or
 - (b) the name of an RCHD in respect of which a licence issued under the Residential Care Homes (Persons with Disabilities) Ordinance (Cap. 613) is in force or has been suspended, surrendered or cancelled.
- 1.2.3 A licence issued in respect of a specific RCHE(NH) is verified by the signature of the DSW and contains information of the RCHE(NH) issued with a licence. Under section 8(5) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance, the licence is evidence of the facts stated in it. If there is any change(s) in the name, address, type of the RCHE(NH), maximum capacity as stated in the licence and/or the operator, it is required to apply for a new licence.

1.3 Business Registration/Companies Registration

An operator of a private RCHE(NH) shall apply to the Inland Revenue Department for business registration in respect of the business under the Business Registration Ordinance (Cap. 310), and with the Registrar of Companies under the Companies Ordinance (Cap. 622) if the home is operated by a body corporate.

1.4 Insurance

Operators of RCHE(NH)s, who are employers, shall formulate employment contracts and take out a policy of employees' compensation insurance for all staff in accordance with the Employment Ordinance (Cap. 57) and the Employees' Compensation Ordinance (Cap. 282). Moreover, the operators of RCHE(NH)s are also advised to take out other related insurances for the RCHE(NH)s such as public liability insurance.

1.5 Advertisement

Under section 14A of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, the operator of an RCHE must ensure that every advertisement published by or on behalf of the operator for promoting the RCHE contains information to the effect that a licence is in force in respect of the RCHE.

1.6 Closure of RCHE(NH)s

If an operator ceases the operation of an RCHE(NH), or if a residential care home is unable to continue its operation due to various reasons (e.g. termination of tenancy by the landlord), the operator shall inform LORCHE as well as the residents and their guardians¹/guarantors²/family members/relatives/contact persons, in writing at least 3 months prior to its closure of the RCHE(NH), together with a relocation plan for the residents. The operator shall surrender the licence to LORCHE after the closure of the RCHE(NH). If the licence of the residential care home is an e-licence, the operator shall submit a Home Closure Application and surrender the licence through the Online Platform (<https://lrbop.swd.gov.hk>). For management matters relating to the closure of an RCHE(NH), please refer to paragraph 9.13 of Chapter 9 in this Code of Practice.

¹ A “guardian” in this Code of Practice refers to a person appointed by the Court or the Guardianship Board for executing the conferred powers and responsibilities.

² A “guarantor” in this Code of Practice refers to a person who is or is not a relative of a resident and may not be conferred with statutory powers, voluntarily assists in handling the daily matters for the resident, such as making an application for admission to and discharge from an RCHE(NH), discussion of care plans or payment of home fees, etc.

CHAPTER 2

DEFINITION OF RCHE(NH)s

2.1 Definition of RCHE(NH)s

- 2.1.1 Under section 2(1) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance, an RCHE means any premises at which more than 5 persons who have attained the age of 60 years are habitually received for the purposes of care while resident therein. As stipulated in section 3(aa) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation,

Nursing home is namely an establishment providing residential care, supervision and guidance for persons who have attained the age of 60 years, and who are suffering from a functional disability to the extent that they require personal care and attention in the course of daily living activities, and a high degree of professional nursing care, but do not require continuous medical supervision.

- 2.1.2 In determining the type of an RCHE(NH) making an application for the issue or renewal of a licence, the level of care and assistance required by the residents to be received or received by an RCHE(NH) will be considered by LORCHE based on health assessments of the residents at the time of their admission to an RCHE(NH) (please refer to paragraph 9.3.1 of Chapter 9 in this Code of Practice).

2.2 Mixed RCHEs with Nursing Home Places

- 2.2.1 RCHEs may concurrently receive residents requiring different levels of care in actual operation. For example, some care and attention homes may be established with nursing home places.
- 2.2.2 The home will be classified as a “nursing home” when 30% or more residents out of the number of care and attention and nursing home places are in need of nursing home service, unless otherwise approved by the DSW. The above principle is to strengthen the protection of residents who require service of a higher care level.

LICENCE

3.1 Policy

Any person who operates, keeps, manages or otherwise has control of an RCHE classified as a nursing home shall hold a licence³ for the time being in force, which is issued or renewed under the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Ordinance in respect of that RCHE(NH).

BUILDING AND ACCOMMODATION

4.1 Introduction

- 4.1.1 RCHE(NH)s are subject to inspection by the Building Safety Inspectorate Team of the SWD and shall comply with the Buildings Ordinance (Cap. 123) and its subsidiary legislation as well as any codes of practice and guidelines issued by the Buildings Department on building safety, including the Practice Note for Authorised Persons, Registered Structural Engineers and Registered Geotechnical Engineers.
- 4.1.2 The physical design, size and layout of the RCHE(NH)s shall be appropriate for the safe and effective delivery of services. There shall be adequate spacing between beds to allow transfer of residents on stretchers. All equipment shall conform to current health and safety regulations and be stored and used properly to ensure that at the time of use they are in optimum condition. Besides, mechanism shall be in place to inspect all residential care buildings and physical facilities periodically. The periodic inspections shall be documented to allow the management to develop a plan to reduce evident risks and provide a safe and secure physical environment of care.

4.2 Statutory Plans, Land Lease Conditions, Deeds of Mutual Covenant and Tenancy Conditions

- 4.2.1 It is the responsibility of the operators to ensure that the premises used for operating RCHE(NH)s comply with the requirements of the relevant legislations, statutory plans, land lease conditions, deed of mutual covenant and tenancy conditions.
- 4.2.2 With regard to the requirements of statutory plans, the operators should check the Outline Zoning Plans or the Development Permission Area Plans devised by the Town Planning Board under the Town Planning Ordinance (Cap. 131) to confirm whether the use or development of an RCHE(NH) at the subject location/premises is always permitted under the Town Planning Ordinance or requires an application to the Town Planning Board or a designated officer assigned by the Planning Department for planning permission.

An RCHE is a “Social Welfare Facility” according to the Definition of Terms in statutory plans⁵ adopted by the Town Planning Board. If it is specified in the “Note” of the Outline Zoning Plans or the Development Permission Area Plans that the use of “Social Welfare Facility” requires prior planning permission from the Town Planning Board, the operator shall apply to the Town Planning Board for a planning permission in advance, and submit the relevant proof of planning permission to LORCHE. Otherwise, LORCHE may not be able to issue a licence to the RCHE(NH) concerned.

- 4.2.3 With regard to the requirements of land lease conditions, operators should check the land lease of the lot where the premises are situated (including NTEHs or commonly known as “small houses”) to ensure that the operation of RCHE(NH) at the premises concerned is permitted. If the RCHE(NH) concerned is in breach of the land lease conditions, the operator shall make an application to the Lands Department for a short-term waiver for operating an RCHE(NH) at the subject premises, for which the processing time normally takes 6 to 9 months. If the required short-term waiver cannot be produced, LORCHE may not be able to issue a licence to the RCHE(NH) concerned. If the premises are not able to comply with the requirements of the land lease conditions, enforcement action may be taken by the relevant authorities resulting in the premises not suitable to be used as an RCHE(NH).
- 4.2.4 The operators shall note that tenancy agreements and deeds of mutual covenant are legal binding documents. They may be ordered by the court to terminate the operation of the RCHE(NH) in the subject premises in civil proceedings.
- 4.2.5 This Code of Practice does not prejudice the power of other government departments to take law enforcement or regulatory actions.

4.3 Restriction to the Premises of RCHE(NH)s

- 4.3.1 No part of an RCHE(NH) shall be situated on any premises where building works have been carried out or structures⁶ have been built without the approval and consent from the Building Authority. For RCHE(NH)s situated at NTEHs, please refer to paragraph 4.2.3 of this chapter.

⁵ For details, please refer to website: <https://www.info.gov.hk/tpb/en/forms/definition.html>.

⁶ Definitions of building and building works are set out under section 2 of the Buildings Ordinance (Cap. 123).

- 4.3.2 Unauthorised building works⁷ inside or related to the premises of RCHE(NH)s may constitute a risk to the safety of the occupants and the public, and therefore shall be removed or rectified. If the renovation or alteration works are within the scope of the Building (Minor Works) Regulation, they shall be carried out in accordance with the requirements and procedures stipulated under the above-mentioned Regulation. For details, please refer to the website of the Buildings Department (<https://www.bd.gov.hk>). For RCHE(NH)s situated at NTEHs, please refer to paragraph 4.2.3 of this chapter.

4.4 Design

Under section 21 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, every RCHE shall, to the satisfaction of the DSW, be designed to suit the particular needs of the residents as follows –

- 4.4.1 every passage and doorway shall be wide enough to accommodate residents using walking aids or wheelchairs. According to the above principle, the clear width of every passage and doorway shall not be less than 1 050 mm and 800 mm respectively, so as to facilitate residents using wheelchairs or walking aids to enter or pass through any rooms, including bedrooms and toilets/bathrooms, without assistance and unnecessary difficulty;
- 4.4.2 non-slip tiles shall be fitted in every place (especially the toilet/bathroom and kitchen) where the safety of residents is in jeopardy by reason of a risk of slippage; and
- 4.4.3 the ceiling (the ceiling slab or suspended false ceiling) of every room shall, unless otherwise permitted by the DSW, be situated at a height not less than 2.5 m measuring vertically from the floor or not less than 2.3 m measuring vertically from the floor to the underside of any beam.
- 4.4.4 In addition to the above requirements, the operators shall also ensure that –
- (a) an electric call bell shall be installed at each bedspace for the residents of RCHE(NH)s;

⁷ Any building works without the approval and consent from the Building Authority are regarded as unauthorised building works unless they are exempted from the provisions of section 41 of the Buildings Ordinance (Cap. 123) or are minor works carried out according to simplified requirements.

- (b) appropriate handrails⁸ are fitted at all toilets/bathrooms and corridors;
- (c) the design of furniture and interior installations of the premises are hazard-free; and
- (d) at the outer edge of all balconies, verandahs, staircases, landings or projections, or where there is a difference in adjacent levels greater than 600 mm, protective barriers shall be provided to minimise the risk of persons or objects falling from height; the height of the protective barrier should not be less than 1.1 m and the lowermost 150 mm shall be built solid and constructed so as to inhibit the passage of articles not less than 100 mm.

4.4.5 If there is an internal open staircase connecting upper and lower levels within the premises, a fence or gate should be provided, where the situation allows, at the upper landing of the internal staircase that does not cause obstruction; the fence or gate should be kept closed under usual circumstances which should not affect the means of escape in the premises in order to ensure safety of the residents (including wheelchair users). RCHE(NH)s are advised to consider supplementing the following measures or other improvements (if applicable) to enhance safety in the use of open staircases –

- (a) lay non-slip mats or tiles on the upper landing of the staircase and place non-slip strips nosing in contrasting colour at each step of the staircase;
- (b) extend the handrails on both sides of the staircase to the upper landing to assist users in supporting the body;
- (c) provide tactile or visible marks at suitable locations to remind users to keep alert; and
- (d) avoid setting obstacles on the staircase landing or both sides of the walls.

4.4.6 All RCHE(NH)s shall provide appropriate facilities for residents with disabilities to the satisfaction of the DSW. The design of those facilities shall comply with the requirements of the Design Manual: Barrier Free Access 2008 and any subsequently revised versions issued by the Buildings Department, and the requirements in respect of the above facilities as revised by the DSW (if applicable). If the provision of those facilities imposes unreasonable hardship on the applicant or any other persons, the DSW shall make the final decision.

4.5 Basic Facilities

- 4.5.1 The basic facilities of an RCHE(NH) include bedroom, sitting/dining room, toilet/bathroom/shower room, kitchen, laundry, office and isolation facility/room. All passages including the corridor and outdoor rest area should not be used as bedrooms. The DSW may impose any of the above requirements on basic facilities for any RCHE(NH) based on individual circumstances.
- 4.5.2 A kitchen with a suitable size and adequate number of water closets, lavatory basins, baths or showers⁹ should be provided in an RCHE(NH) based on the number of residents. In addition, at least 1 accessible water closet shall be provided on each floor with bedroom(s) or sitting/dining room. If the number of residents is more than 50 on that floor, an additional accessible water closet shall be provided for every 50 residents (or less).

4.6 Accessibility

Under section 23 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, every RCHE shall, to the satisfaction of the DSW, be accessible by emergency services.

4.7 Means of Escape

- 4.7.1 RCHE(NH)s shall be provided with adequate escape exits and exit routes in accordance with the Code of Practice for Fire Safety in Buildings 2011 issued by the Building Authority and the requirements as stipulated in any subsequently revised versions.
- 4.7.2 The number of residents and staff that may be accommodated by an RCHE(NH) are factors that shall be considered for assessment of the adequacy for escape exits and exit routes.
- 4.7.3 All fire-related doors to kitchens, plant rooms or shafts that are usually unoccupied and used to place machinery or plumbing equipment, and all protected doors to or along protected staircases should be capable of self-closing and kept closed at all times. If a locking device is installed on a designated exit door, it shall be readily openable from the inside without the use of a key. The locking device may be electrically operated, but it shall be released automatically upon actuation of a fire detection system or an alarm system, or the operation of a central manual override designed and installed to the satisfaction of the Director of Fire Services (D of FS). The electric locking device should be released automatically in case of a power failure. If an emergency push bar is installed on the exit door, it shall not be encased with additional installations.

- 4.7.4 Adequate lighting shall be provided for every exit route which is kept clear of obstructions. A fire/emergency evacuation route plan should be displayed inside the RCHE(NH) in accordance with the relevant requirements as stated in paragraph 5.5.6 of Chapter 5 in this Code of Practice.

4.8 Fire Resisting Construction

- 4.8.1 The design and construction of RCHE(NH)s shall comply with the Code of Practice for Fire Safety in Buildings 2011 issued by the Building Authority and the requirements as stipulated in any subsequently revised versions.
- 4.8.2 RCHE(NH)s shall be separated from other users of the building by suitable fire resisting construction in accordance with the Code of Practice for Fire Safety in Buildings 2011 issued by the Building Authority and the requirements as stipulated in any subsequently revised versions.
- 4.8.3 The kitchen of an RCHE(NH) shall be separated from other parts of the home premises with a barrier of a fire resistance rating of not less than 60 minutes. The door of the kitchen shall have a fire resistance rating of not less than 60 minutes, which should be capable of self-closing and kept closed at all times.
- 4.8.4 Areas of special hazards (the definition of special hazard is provided in Part A of the Code of Practice for Fire Safety in Buildings 2011) in RCHE(NH)s shall be enclosed by barriers with a fire resistance rating of not less than 120 minutes, or 240 minutes if the areas of special hazards adjoin protected exits directly. Any door leading to such areas of special hazards from the RCHE(NH) premises shall have a fire resistance rating of not less than that for the barrier leading to areas of special hazards, which should be capable of self-closing and kept closed at all times.

- 4.8.5 If added or altered fire resisting constructions are involved in the premises of an RCHE(NH), LORCHE may require the RCHE(NH) to submit documentary proof with supporting test/assessment reports prepared by authorised persons/registered structural engineers to certify that the fire resistance function of such fire resisting construction is in order.

4.9 Heating, Lighting and Ventilation

- 4.9.1 Under section 24 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, every RCHE shall, to the satisfaction of the DSW, be adequately heated, lighted and ventilated.
- 4.9.2 Operators of RCHE(NH)s should make reference to the ventilation requirements stipulated in “A Supplement on Ventilation – Guidelines on Prevention of Communicable Diseases in Residential Care Homes for the Elderly & Guidelines on Prevention of Communicable Diseases in Residential Care Homes for Persons with Disabilities” issued by the Department of Health (https://www.chp.gov.hk/files/pdf/a_supplement_on_ventilation.pdf) in maintaining good ventilation of the premises. Both natural and mechanical ventilation requirements should be met in terms of provision of sufficient fresh air supply and thermal comfort year-round.
- 4.9.3 All newly planned RCHE(NH)s shall comply with the entire ventilation requirements stipulated in this chapter, including proper installation of mechanical ventilation systems, to ensure sufficient air exchange between the inside and outside of a space. Likewise, the ventilation requirements must be observed by existing RCHE(NH)s when carrying out the relevant improvement works.
- 4.9.4 Every room used for habitation or for the purposes of an office or kitchen in RCHE(NH)s shall be provided with adequate natural lighting and ventilation for compliance with sections 29, 30, 31, 32 and 33 of the Building (Planning) Regulations, (Cap. 123 sub. leg. F). The DSW may consider exemption if adequate artificial lighting and mechanical ventilation are provided in the kitchen or office to the satisfaction of the DSW.
- 4.9.5 Every room containing a soil fitment or waste fitment in an RCHE(NH) shall be provided with a window in accordance with section 36 of the Building (Planning) Regulations (Cap. 123 sub. leg. F). The DSW may consider exemption if adequate artificial lighting and mechanical ventilation are provided to the satisfaction of the DSW.

4.9.6 When installing the mechanical ventilation system, RCHE(NH)s shall take note of the following principles –

- (a) sufficient supply of fresh air to meet the respiratory needs of the occupants;
- (b) even distribution of fresh air supply within the space to enhance the effect of dilution of contaminants;
- (c) clear flow direction of fresh air (including make-up air) and exhaust air throughout the premises/rooms, with pathway of air movement from clean to less clean areas, then to dirty or potentially contaminated areas, subsequently flowing out of the RCHE(NH)s;
- (d) air inlets and exhausts being at a distance apart to minimise the recirculation of exhausted air back into the premises; and
- (e) proper control of the indoor temperature and humidity.

4.9.7 RCHE(NH)s should adopt the following requirements on fresh air intake of mechanical ventilation system in compliance with the principles as stated in paragraph 4.9.6 –

CHAPTER 5

FIRE SAFETY AND PRECAUTIONS

5.1 Introduction

Under section 31 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, any member of the Fire Services Department (FSD) may at all reasonable times enter and inspect an RCHE. Operators of RCHE(NH)s shall comply with any requirements stipulated by the SWD and the FSD in respect of fire safety and precautionary measures.

5.2 Location

5.2.1 Under section 19 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, no RCHE shall be situated in any part of –

- (a) an industrial building; or
- (b) any premises the floor of which is immediately over the ceiling or immediately below the floor slab of any –
 - (i) godown;
 - (ii) cinema;
 - (iii) theatre; or
 - (iv) premises wherein any trade which, in the opinion of the DSW, may pose a risk to the life or safety of the residents is carried on.

5.2.2 With regard to the trades as mentioned under section 19(b)(iv) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, please refer to the prescribed use stipulated under section 49(1) of the Building (Planning) Regulation (Cap. 123 sub. leg. F), including that for the manufacture of any dangerous goods within the meaning of the Dangerous Goods Ordinance (Cap. 295); or for the storage of any such dangerous goods to which section 6 of that Ordinance applies; or as a motor repair shop; or as a vulcanizing shop; or for automobile or carriage painting; or as a paint shop where paint or varnish is manufactured or mixed; or for dry-cleaning.

- 5.2.3 RCHE(NH)s should not be situated on the basement floor under general circumstances. Nevertheless, the DSW may consider special cases after consulting relevant departments.

5.3 Height

- 5.3.1 Under section 20 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, subject to paragraph 5.3.2 below, no part of an RCHE shall be situated at a height more than 24 m above the ground floor, measuring vertically from the ground of the building to the floor of the premises in which the RCHE is to be situated.
- 5.3.2 The DSW may by notice in writing served on an operator authorise that any part of the RCHE may be situated at a height more than 24 m above the ground floor as may be indicated in the notice.
- (a) If an RCHE(NH) operator can prove that the RCHE(NH) possesses facilities for fire safety, evacuation and rescue, and appropriate evacuation, contingency and fire drill plans to the satisfaction of the DSW, the DSW may approve the ancillary facilities of the RCHE(NH) to which the residents normally do not have access (e.g. kitchen, laundry room, office, staff resting room) to be situated at a height more than 24 m above the ground floor.
 - (b) If an RCHE(NH) operator considers that there is a need for any part of an RCHE(NH) used for residents' dormitory to be situated at a height more than 24 m above the ground floor, the DSW may consider and authorise the relaxation of the concerned RCHE(NH)'s height restriction on the premise that the part of the RCHE(NH) complies with additional fire safety requirements. The additional fire safety requirements cover building fire safety design and management of RCHE(NH)s with a view to meeting the needs of rescue, evacuation and contingency management of RCHE(NH)s. Details of the requirements are set out at Annex 5.1.
- 5.3.3 If an RCHE(NH) is located in a building served by 2 streets/roads at different levels, the height of the RCHE(NH) is to be measured from the level of the lower street/road.

5.4 Fire Service Installations and Equipment

- 5.4.1 The standards and specifications of fire service installations and equipment (FSIs) provided for RCHE(NH)s shall conform to the latest version of the Code of Practice for Minimum Fire Service Installations and Equipment and Circular letters issued by the D of FS applicable to FSIs installed in the buildings/premises. For the existing FSIs already installed in the building/premises, the provisions and specifications shall follow the appropriate version of the Code of Practice for Minimum Fire Service Installations and Equipment that was applicable at the time of their installation. All inspection, testing and maintenance of FSIs shall be conducted in accordance with the Code of Practice for Inspection, Testing and Maintenance of Installations and Equipment.

If the entire RCHE(NH) is installed with an automatic sprinkler system, it may not be necessary to provide any additional heat or smoke detectors at locations such as toilets/bathrooms/staircases and open-sided corridors/balconies, etc. The alarm of the fire detection system shall be transmitted to the Fire Services Communications Centre by a direct telephone link provided by an authorised service provider of the Computerised Fire Alarm Transmission System. It is recommended that the fire control panels of the RCHE(NH) and the subject building be programmed to avoid transmitting duplicate fire signals to the Fire Services Communications Centre in a single actuation of any actuating point in the RCHE(NH) or the subject building, i.e. detectors, manual call point, sprinkler system flow switch, etc.
 - (b) The RCHE(NH) shall be installed with a manual fire alarm system in compliance with the Code of Practice for Minimum

Fire Service Installations and Equipment and relevant Circular Letters issued by the D of FS with an actuating point and an audio warning device located at or near the main entrance lobby, reception/nurse station (if any) and other sets at conspicuous location(s) near the exit(s) of each floor.  - (iv) a 4.5 kg CO₂ type/9-litre water type extinguisher shall be provided at a location near each exit if hose reel system is not provided for the RCHE(NH).
- (e) All escape exits shall be indicated by illuminated exit signs.
- (f) If an exit sign is not clearly visible from any location in the RCHE(NH) especially corridors leading from each room to the exit routes of the RCHE(NH), suitable directional signs shall be provided at conspicuous locations to assist residents or occupants to identify the escape exits in the event of a fire/emergency.

- (g) Emergency lighting shall be provided in the entire area of the RCHE(NH). Self-contained luminaries emergency lighting systems satisfying the latest version of the Requirements for Self-contained Luminaries Emergency Lighting Systems [PPA/104(A)] may be used.

- 5.4.6 If there is a need to alter or add any FSIs on the premises, the operator shall appoint a Registered Fire Service Installation Contractor (RFSIC) of appropriate classes to carry out the works. The contractor concerned shall submit a certificate FSI/314A, FSI/314B or FSI/314C (as appropriate), together with 3 sets of the fire service installation plans to the D of FS. On completion of the works, the contractor concerned shall submit a copy of the Certificate of Fire Service Installation and Equipment (FS 251) to the D of FS. In addition, the operator shall also submit a copy of the FS251 to the DSW as proof of compliance.

AREA OF FLOOR SPACE

6.1 Introduction

The requirement for the minimum area of floor space for each resident in an RCHE is specified under section 22 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation.

6.2 Area of Floor Space

Under section 22(1) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, the minimum area of floor space required for each resident in an RCHE is as follows –

(a)	Nursing home or care and attention home	9.5 m ²
(b)	Aged home or self-care hostel	8 m ²

6.3 Number of Residents

The appropriate number of residents in an RCHE(NH) is determined by the physical size of the building and the above requirements for the minimum area of floor space for each resident. Area of floor space means the net floor area for the exclusive use of the RCHE(NH). In determining the area of floor space per resident, the area of any staff dormitory, open space, podium, garden, flat roof, bay window, staircase, column, walls, staircase hall, lift, lift landing, any space occupied by machinery for any lift, air-conditioning system or any similar service provided for the building, or any other area in the RCHE(NH) which the DSW considers unsuitable for the purposes of an RCHE(NH) shall be disregarded.

CHAPTER 7

They should also regularly inspect and maintain these facilities, perform timely repairs, replacements or renovations, and keep proper records.

- 7.2.2 RCHE(NH)s shall be equipped with CCTV systems that have recording functions, and they should comply with the Guidance on CCTV Surveillance and Use of Drones issued by the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data, to determine the scope and extent of the surveillance and consider installing the CCTV systems at locations such as public areas, interview rooms, entrance and exits so as to protect personal privacy. Existing RCHEs ¹² shall install a CCTV system during future modification work if it is not currently available.

7.3 Equipment and Devices

- 7.3.1 RCHE(NH)s shall install and service the equipment according to the manufacturer's recommendation. Hence, an RCHE(NH) should formulate internal guidelines to control the staff in accessing and using personal data of residents, and to take measures to protect the personal data of residents.

- 9.10.4 Under normal circumstances, an open disclosure of the personal data of a subject without seeking his/her consent infringes the person's privacy. In this regard, an RCHE(NH) should be careful in displaying the daily programme schedule or timetable for routine activities of residents. No personal data (e.g. identity card numbers, medical records) should be disclosed to the public or openly displayed together with the names of residents to ensure that personal data of residents are properly protected against unauthorised or accidental access, processing, erasure or other uses.

9.11 Prevention of Corruption and Bribery

9.11.1 In conducting all business or affairs of the RCHE(NH), the management officers or other staff must comply with the Prevention of Bribery Ordinance (Cap. 201) and must not –

- (a) solicit or accept any advantage from others as a reward for or inducement to doing any act or showing favour in relation to the RCHE(NH)'s business or affairs, or offer any advantage to an agent of another as a reward for or inducement to doing any act or showing favour in relation to his principal's business or affairs;
- (b) offer any advantage to any public servant (e.g. Government/public body employee) as a reward for or inducement to his performing any act in his official capacity or his showing any favour or providing any assistance in business dealing with the Government/a public body; or
- (c) offer any advantage to any staff of a Government department or public body while having business dealings with the latter.

9.11.2 In order to prevent any forms of bribery and corruption, the RCHE(NH) must compile a code of conduct for the management officers and other staff, which covers essential integrity requirements, including policy on soliciting, accepting and offering advantage; declaration and management of conflict of interest; handling of confidential information; and prohibition against misuse of official position, etc. The RCHE(NH) should prohibit their business partners (e.g. suppliers/contractors/service providers) from soliciting, accepting and offering any advantage in relation to the RCHE(NH)'s business or affairs. The RCHE(NH) should also remind the residents and their guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives/contact persons, etc. that they should not offer any advantage to management officers or staff for any favour (e.g. special care services). In addition, the RCHE(NH) should promptly report any suspected corruption to the Independent Commission Against Corruption (ICAC)³².

³² Please refer to the ICAC's Report Corruption Channels: <https://www.icac.org.hk/en/rc/channel/index.html>.

- 9.11.3 Operators may refer to the Prevention of Bribery Ordinance (Cap. 201), Strengthening Integrity and Accountability - Government Funding Schemes Grantee's Guidebook, Best Practice Checklist – Staff Administration, Sample Code of Conduct for the Private Sector, Corruption Prevention Guide on Governance and Internal Control for Non-Governmental Organisations, and Sample Codes of Conduct (Board Members/Staff) for Non-Governmental Organisations in Social Welfare Sector issued by ICAC for developing relevant codes of conduct and policies³³.

9.12 Other Relevant Legislative Requirements

Licensing of an RCHE(NH) does not imply an exemption from other legal obligations. Operators and home managers of RCHE(NH)s should take note and comply with other relevant ordinances and statutory requirements, such as issues related to the RCHE(NH) premises, employees, personal data, insurance, etc.

9.13 Closure of RCHE(NH) or Discharge of Residents

12.9.1 Under section 8 of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, the DSW may cancel a person's registration as a health worker if satisfied that –

- (a) the registration was obtained by fraudulent means;
- (b) the person is no longer qualified to be registered as a registered health worker (stated in paragraph 12.3.1 of this chapter), competent to perform the duties of a health worker, or fit and proper to be so registered; or
- (c) the person contravenes –
 - (i) a condition imposed on the registration under section 6(3) or 7A(4) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation (stated in paragraphs 12.4.3 and 12.5.3 of this chapter respectively); or
 - (ii) the reporting requirements under section 10B of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation (stated in paragraph 12.8 of this chapter).

12.9.2 The DSW must cancel a person's registration as a registered health worker –

- (a) if the person makes a written request to the DSW for cancelling the registration; or
- (b) if the person was also registered as a registered health worker under the Residential Care Homes (Persons with Disabilities) Regulation and that registration is cancelled under section 8(1)(a) or (b) of the Residential Care Homes (Persons with Disabilities) Regulation.

12.10 Continuous Learning

In-service health workers should enhance service quality through continuous learning. If a health worker has been registered for a long period of time before taking up employment or being re-employed as a health worker, he/she should take relevant training courses prior to taking up employment for revision and updating of nursing care knowledge and skills.

- (d) For residents using intermittent catheters, the frequency of catheterisation should be determined based on medical advice. RCHE(NH)s should review the use of catheters regularly and seek advice and instructions from registered medical practitioners.

- (e) The following items should be noted when assisting residents in using urinary catheters –
 - (i) assist residents in changing any kinds of catheters regularly according to the instructions of healthcare professionals;
 - (ii) catheters should be placed in a position that allows free flow of urine. To prevent backflow of urine causing infection, staff should make sure that the urinary bag is placed in a position lower than the bladder when transferring the residents;
 - (iii) keep urinary bags clean at all times, and monitor and keep records of the residents' intake and output of fluid on a need basis; and
 - (iv) observe if any abnormality occurs (e.g. presence of sediments and blood in urine, reduced urine output, etc.) and seek opinion from healthcare professionals if necessary.

13.7.2 Use of Feeding Tubes

CHAPTER 14

HEALTH AND CARE SERVICES

14.1 Introduction

In providing residential care service for elderly persons, an RCHE(NH) should deliver health and care services to individual residents based on their health condition and self-care ability as required.

14.2 Health Service

- 14.2.1 Under section 34 of Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, the operator of an RCHE shall ensure that each resident is medically examined at least once in every 12 months. The examination shall be conducted by a registered medical practitioner, who shall report in writing to the operator on the health of each resident. RCHE(NH)s should use the “Medical Examination Form for Residents in Residential Care Homes (Nursing Homes) for the Elderly” (Annex 14.1) or any other forms as endorsed by the DSW to record and maintain the residents’ health condition for inspection by inspectors of LORCHE.
- 14.2.2 Every resident shall have a medical examination conducted by a registered medical practitioner prior to admission to an RCHE(NH), using the “Medical Examination Form for Residents in Residential Care Homes (Nursing Homes) for the Elderly” (Annex 14.1) or any other forms as endorsed by the DSW (including a valid Minimum Data Set-Home Care Assessment (MDS-HC) under the Standardised Care Need Assessment for Elderly Services). For urgent or special cases that medical examinations cannot be conducted prior to admission, medical examinations shall still be conducted within 3 calendar days after admission to an RCHE(NH).
- 14.2.3 An RCHE(NH) shall arrange regular visits (at least once every 2 weeks) by a registered medical practitioner to residents for health checking, medical consultation or follow-up treatment. In addition, an RCHE(NH) should provide assistance to visiting healthcare professionals and other professional practitioners in delivering services to the RCHE(NH) (including the Community Geriatric Assessment Team (CGAT) and the Community Psychogeriatric Team (CPT) of HA, the Visiting Health Team (VHT) and Outreaching Dental Care (ODC) of DH, the Visiting Medical Practitioner Service for Residential Care Homes, the Multi-disciplinary Outreaching Teams for Elderly Service provided by the SWD, etc.) in the provision of the required health service, dental checking or health education activities for residents.

- 14.2.4 Apart from regular medical examinations or follow-up appointments, an RCHE(NH) shall arrange appropriate personnel (such as nurses or health workers) to conduct a health check (including measuring body temperature, blood pressure, pulse and/or blood oxygen level) for “residents with special care needs” [i.e. those totally lacking in self-care ability and being unable to express their own needs effectively (e.g. residents with intellectual disabilities or suffering from cognitive impairment, stroke, etc. who are bedridden), or those who require special care for individual reasons (such as being in quarantine or under medical advice)] at least every 2 calendar days; and the home manager of an RCHE(NH) shall conduct random checks and observe the care of the above-said residents, and keep relevant records. The RCHE(NH) shall also conduct health checks for other residents at least every 7 calendar days, and maintain relevant records. Meanwhile, the RCHE(NH) shall also keep and update the “list of residents with special care needs” from time to time (please refer to paragraph 9.7.2(m) of Chapter 9 in this Code of Practice).
- 14.2.5 When the resident is sick, injured or there is a change in his/her health condition, a health assessment should be made immediately with a view to arranging consultation or seeking medical/nursing opinion. The resident’s guardians/guarantors/family members /relatives should also be informed of the condition with a record in his/her “Personal Health and Nursing Record”.
- 14.2.6 An RCHE(NH) should have contingency arrangements in place at all times for emergencies or accidents, including the formulation of work guidelines for handling unforeseen incidents (e.g. kinds of the emergencies, ways of immediate handling, lists of emergency contact numbers, division of work among staff, when and which staff to contact families of the residents, documentary records, etc.), and training and supervision of the competencies of staff in handling emergencies so that residents may receive proper care in case of emergencies.
- 14.2.7 An RCHE(NH) should seek advice from healthcare professionals and professional practitioners in encouraging residents to participate in rehabilitation exercises and arranging suitable rehabilitation services for residents.

- 14.2.8 An RCHE(NH) should adopt proper work procedures so that the staff concerned can correctly identify and match the personal identities and health records of the residents during the process of medical consultation.

14.3 Individual Care Plan

- 14.3.1 An RCHE(NH) should consult healthcare professionals and professional practitioners for advice and maintain effective communication with residents' guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives, so as to formulate specific and appropriate individual care plans (ICPs) depending on the needs of residents, with a view to providing and arranging necessary care services. During the initial period after admission, an RCHE(NH) should pay more attention to the new residents' behaviours and needs, and maintain liaison with their guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives to help them adapt to the RCHE(NH) environment as soon as possible (please refer to paragraph 20.3.1 of Chapter 20 in this Code of Practice).
- 14.3.2 An RCHE(NH) should formulate the ICPs of residents jointly with the residents and their guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives within 1 month after admission, conduct the first review 6 months after the dates of formulating the first ICPs, review the ICPs at least annually or when the required care services have changed, and maintain the relevant records.
- 14.3.3 The content of the ICP should include the following –
- (a) medical history;
 - (b) mental state;
 - (c) mobility assessment;
 - (d) self-care ability assessment;
 - (e) assessment of risk factors and preventive measures (e.g. swallowing difficulty, falls, wandering, cognitive impairment, depression, behavioural problems, allergies, etc.);
 - (f) assessment of nursing care needs and nursing care plan (e.g. wounds, urinary catheters, feeding tubes, peritoneal dialysis, stoma care, etc.);

- (g) personal habits and daily activities (e.g. social, emotional, behavioural conditions, etc.); and
- (h) rehabilitation need and plan.

14.4 Personal Care

- 14.4.1 An RCHE(NH) should devise a personal care schedule and provide personal care services for residents such as bathing, hair washing, hair cutting, shaving, nail cutting, dental and oral care, changing clothes and diapers, etc. in a timely manner and whenever required, so as to help them keep their body clean and comfortable, and keep their skin dry.
- 14.4.2 An RCHE(NH) should assist bedridden residents in changing their positions regularly, and assist in keeping their skin and clothes clean and dry to avoid skin in contact with sweat or excreta for a long time, which can lead to breakage, infection or pressure injuries (pressure sores).
- 14.4.3 Under section 33B of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, when a personal care service is provided to, or a nursing care procedure is performed on, a resident in an RCHE, adequate facilities (e.g. partitions, curtains, etc.) or measures must be provided or taken, to the satisfaction of the DSW, to avoid improper exposure of body parts and protect the dignity and privacy of the resident.
- 14.4.4 An RCHE(NH) should take appropriate measures, including placing signs near the bedsides of residents and/or other suitable locations for identifying the special nursing care needs or risk factors of residents (e.g. allergies, falls, swallowing difficulty, etc.) to ensure their safety.
- 14.4.5 In order to render appropriate personal care services to residents, RCHE(NH) operators should arrange for staff to receive training and supervision related to personal care and nursing care skills (e.g. lifting/transfer, feeding, bathing, etc.) and consult the relevant guidelines and healthcare professionals' advice.

14.5 Personal Health and Nursing Record

14.5.1 An RCHE(NH) shall properly maintain and update the “Personal Health and Nursing Record” of each resident, including –

- (a) notes of all registered medical practitioners, nurses, allied health professionals and care workers, who have attended the resident in the RCHE(NH), for example, consultation notes and progress notes;
- (b) medical examination forms;
- (c) medical history (e.g. history of major illnesses, previous operations, vaccination, special care needs, accidents, etc.);
- (d) records of admission to and discharge from hospitals;
- (e) records of medical consultation and follow-up treatment;
- (f) health condition assessments (e.g. body weights, vital signs, activities of daily living, intake and output condition, dental and oral, emotional, mental, social and behavioural condition, smoking or alcoholism, exercises, etc.);
- (g) special nursing care needs and nursing records (e.g. incontinence care, use of feeding tubes/urinary catheters, prevention of pressure injuries (pressure sores), peritoneal dialysis care, stoma or wound care, etc.);
- (h) prescription order form;
- (i) observation charts and fluid balance charts; and
- (j) drug records and history of allergy.

14.5.2 Notes of healthcare professionals should be properly signed with their name and post marked.

14.5.3 All entries in the “Personal Health and Nursing Record” shall be dated. The time shall be entered where appropriate. Each entry shall be signed by the service provider and the signature shall be recognisable or traceable. A specimen of signature shall be kept. Alternatively, the signature shall be accompanied by the name of the signatory. Incorrect entry or error made shall be crossed out and corrected where appropriate with the date and signature of the correcting officer.

- 14.5.4 Where the “Personal Health and Nursing Record” is in an electronic format, there shall be a mechanism to provide an audit trail on any amendments made on the record.
- 14.5.5 The management should regularly audit the content and completeness of the “Personal Health and Nursing Record” of resident.

14.6 Avoid Using Restraint

- 14.6.1 Restraint refers to a means of limiting a resident’s movement so as to minimise harm to himself/herself and/or other residents, including the use of purposely-made devices such as safety vests, wrist restraints, gloves or safety belts, etc.

- 14.6.2 An RCHE(NH) may consider it necessary to use restraint to limit residents’ movement for the following reasons –

- (a) to prevent residents from injuring themselves or others;
- (b) to prevent residents from falling; and/or
- (c) to prevent residents from removing medical equipment, urinary bags, urinary catheters, feeding tubes, diapers or clothes.

14.6.3 General Principles

- (a) An RCHE(NH) should adopt measures to avoid using restraints whenever possible. The use of restraints should only be considered when there are no other less restrictive means available (i.e. after other alternative attempts have proven ineffective) or in case of emergencies and when the safety, health or well-being of the resident and/or other residents is jeopardised. Consent from the persons concerned shall be obtained in advance for the use of restraints.
- (b) Minimum restraint should be applied and the time for applying restraint should be minimised. The use of restraints should not be regarded as a usual practice and absolutely not to be taken as a form of punishment, or as a substitute for caring for the residents or for the convenience of staff. The use of restraints should be the last resort.

- (c) Dignity and privacy of the residents shall be protected if restraints are applied, with appropriate measures against any assaults to the residents under restraint.
- (d) Guidelines on the use of restraints (including their use in emergency circumstances) should be formulated for staff members' reference and compliance. The home manager should arrange for all the staff members participating in the use of restraints to receive proper training in particular for the impact of restraints on the dignity, privacy and safety of residents, techniques of using restraints, after-care procedures, etc. The proper use of restraints should be included as a part of the induction training and regular training for staff where applicable.

14.6.4 Assessment

Nurses/health workers/allied health professionals should conduct assessments of the needs and risk factors of individual residents, the contributing factors that place the residents/other residents in peril rendering necessity for restraint, alternative attempts made, proposed types of restraint to be used and the time of application. The assessment includes the following items –

- (a) self-injury and harassment (e.g. confusion, disorientation, etc.);
- (b) functional capacity and activities of daily living (e.g. fall risks, inability to maintain correct posture, etc.); and/or
- (c) harm on one's health (e.g. removing feeding tube, urinary catheter, etc.).

14.6.5 Alternatives

Methods other than the use of restraint should be adopted as far as practicable, including the following –

- (a) staff members of RCHE(NH)s and the residents' guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives should attend to the residents at times of unstable emotions which may result in injuring themselves or others;

- (b) RCHE(NH)s should adopt methods such as behavioural therapy at the times when the residents have self-injuring or aggressive acts (e.g. biting hands or kicking others);
- (c) leisure and diversionary activities (e.g. exercise groups and assisted walking activities) should be provided;
- (d) the triggers that may agitate the residents leading to the need for restraint (e.g. to arrange and provide assistance in routine toileting for residents with unsteady gaits to reduce the chance of falling when they go to the toilet on their own) should be removed; and
- (e) recommended measures to be adopted for providing a safe environment, including –
 - (i) removing sharp edged furniture;
 - (ii) strengthening the signage for guiding residents to bedrooms;
 - (iii) assisting residents with suitable footwear and appropriate use of walking aids;
 - (iv) providing good lighting;
 - (v) installing bed monitoring systems;
 - (vi) ensuring correct posture/positions for residents on wheelchair; and
 - (vii) applying brakes to all movable objects (e.g. beds, wheelchairs and commode chairs).

14.6.6 Intervention Plan and Written Consent

Before application of restraints –

- (a) explain to the registered medical practitioners, residents and guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives in detail about the reasons for applying restraints, discuss the intervention plans (including alternative attempts and outcome), the purposes and procedures of applying restraints and the possible adverse effects;

- (b) the type, size and material of the physical restraint intended to be used should suit the individual need of residents; and a wrist restraint with soft padding is suggested; or consult healthcare professionals for advice when necessary, so as to ensure that the application of physical restraint will not cause discomfort or injury to the residents;
- (c) the type and duration of the restraint intended to be applied should be determined by the principle of least restraint; and
- (d) written consent must be obtained from registered medical practitioners, residents and guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives (Annex 14.2) prior to the application of restraints; if the residents cannot understand the use of restraints, written consent shall be obtained from registered medical practitioners and guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives of the residents. In addition, RCHE(NH)s shall review and re-assess the need for continual restraints, the types of physical restraints and/or the scheduling for applying restraints at least once every 6 months or when there is any change in the residents' condition, and written consent from the persons concerned must be obtained again.

14.6.7 Application of Restraints

Under section 33A of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, RCHEs must apply restraints in a safe and proper manner as per the requirements in this Code of Practice. Staff members of RCHE(NH)s must take note of the following points when applying restraints –

- (a) Residents' dignity, privacy and freedom of movement must be protected when applying restraints. The safety and comfort of residents shall be frequently attended to, and restraint shall be used to the minimum extent and for no longer than is necessary;
- (b) RCHE(NH)s should consult healthcare professionals on the types and designs of the physical restraints to be used. Bandages, nylon ropes or strips of cloth must not be used as physical restraints to ensure that no discomfort, abrasions or physical injury will be caused to the residents when applying restraints;

- (c) The types, sizes and materials of physical restraints shall be suitable with a good condition so as to ensure minimal discomfort and danger to the residents; various sizes of safety vests should be available so as to suit the individual needs of residents. It is necessary to provide soft padding when applying restraint to the wrists to protect the skin and prevent abrasions;
- (d) Physical restraints should be applied properly to ensure safety and comfort of residents with allowance for change of their positions. Physical restraints should be fixed and tied at the lateral sides of the bed frame, wheelchair or chair with armrest and a wide/secure base. The knots of restraint should be fixed at areas beyond reach of the residents to prevent the residents from loosening the restraints. Fixing physical restraints on movable objects (e.g. movable bed rails) is strictly prohibited to avoid causing injuries to the residents when moving the objects; and
- (e) A physical restraint shall be applied in such a manner that it can be removed instantly in case of emergencies (e.g. using reef knots), and should not be doubly secured to two or more different objects (e.g. tying to a chair and a bed simultaneously) so that staff members of RCHE(NH)s can assist the residents in evacuating as quickly as possible where necessary.

14.6.8 Observation

Observation shall be conducted during the period of applying physical restraint(s) as follows –

- (a) It is required to closely monitor the condition of the resident during the period of using physical restraint(s). At the same time, the physical restraint(s) shall be released for examination and allowing the resident for relaxation and body movement, checking and recording the blood circulation, skin condition, respiratory condition and degree of restraint of the resident at least once every 2 hours. The following conditions should be observed in particular –
 - (i) resident's level of consciousness;
 - (ii) resident's emotions (e.g. resistance or low mood, or unusual emotional state);

- (iii) whether there is any dislocation or loosening of the physical restraint; and
 - (iv) need of water and nutrition, and toileting of the resident.
- (b) The staff concerned shall keep a record and sign immediately after observing and examining the condition of every resident under restraint. If there is any abnormality of the resident, the staff should report to the home manager/nurse/health worker immediately for further checking and assessment. The resident should be arranged to seek medical advice timely if necessary.

14.6.9 Continuous Assessment and Close Monitoring

- (a) RCHE(NH)s should, in response to changes in the residents' conditions, review and re-assess if there is a need to continue with the use of restraints, change the types of physical restraints and/or change the time of use. When the residents no longer display dangerous behaviours, or when other non-restrictive alternatives can achieve the same protection, the use of restraints should be ceased immediately;
- (b) RCHE(NH)s should establish a monitoring mechanism for the home manager/nurses/health workers to oversee the application of restraint in the home to ensure that the staff members concerned have observed proper procedures in applying restraints;
- (c) The home manager/nurses/health workers shall conduct random checks at least once a day on the condition of every resident under restraint and review the observation record so as to continuously monitor staff's compliance with proper procedures in applying restraints. The observation record should be countersigned by the home manager/nurse/health worker concerned after checking; and
- (d) RCHE(NH)s should prepare records on the use of restraints according to the requirements stipulated in paragraph 9.7.2(e) of Chapter 9 in this Code of Practice.

14.6.10 Use of Restraints in Emergency Situations

- (a) Verbal consent must be obtained from the home manager and the residents' guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives, and where possible, registered medical practitioners, when written consent, as stated in paragraph 14.6.6(d) of this chapter, cannot be obtained by RCHE(NH)s in advance of using restraints, in case of sudden changes in the residents' conditions and when the use of restraints is considered necessary in accordance with the circumstances outlined in paragraphs 14.6.2 and 14.6.3 of this chapter, following assessments conducted by nurses/health workers/allied health professionals. Verbal consent must be obtained from registered medical practitioners and home manager for applying restraints to the residents without guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives under emergency;
- (b) While applying restraint(s) in emergency situations, staff members must monitor closely and examine the condition of residents under restraint in accordance with the requirements specified in paragraph 14.6.8 of this chapter (the frequency of observation and examination should be increased as necessary), and keep a record affixed with a signature;
- (c) Staff members must record the details of the use of restraints in emergency situations properly and instantly, including the reasons for applying restraints; alternatives attempted and their effects; information about contacting registered medical practitioners; the names of the persons who gave verbal consent and the time when such consent was obtained; the types and duration of restraints applied; and the conditions of residents during the period of restraint; and
- (d) The use of restraints in emergency situations must only be regarded as an interim measure. RCHE(NH)s must re-assess the situation, formulate an intervention plan and obtain relevant written consent as soon as possible based on the needs of the residents in accordance with the requirements as specified in paragraphs 14.6.4 to 14.6.6 of this chapter.

14.7 Escort/Escorting Services for Medical Consultation

- 14.7.1 RCHE(NH)s should discuss the arrangement of escorting or accompanying residents to outdoor activities or to hospitals/clinics for treatment with the residents and/or their guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives/contact persons, and encourage family members to take part in the escort or accompanying in order to show concern, from which they may also get the most updated health condition of residents directly from the healthcare professionals.

14.7.2 If there is a need for an RCHE(NH) to arrange escorts for or accompany residents to hospitals/clinics for treatment, the RCHE(NH) should formulate and implement relevant work guidelines, and take note of the following points –

- (a) maintain contact with the residents' guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives/contact persons in order to ensure the arrangement of escort/accompanying for medical consultation and follow up with the needs of the residents;
- (b) arrange for appropriate persons and transportations to escort or accompany the residents to the hospitals/clinics for treatment on time;
- (c) remind relevant residents and staff members to take appropriate infection control measures while escorting/accompanying residents for medical consultation;
- (d) while waiting in hospitals or clinics, the persons responsible for escorting or accompanying residents for medical consultation should provide assistance and care which the residents need, and seek assistance according to the actual circumstances in order to safeguard the safety of the residents; and
- (e) provide training regarding escorting or accompanying residents for medical consultation for staff, where necessary.

An RCHE(NH) shall adhere to the proper procedures in the drug management and assisting residents in using drugs (including oral, topical and injectable drugs), including the storage and preparation of drugs, giving drugs and maintenance of drug records. For details, please refer to the “Guide on Drug Management in Residential Care Homes” (“the Guide”) jointly published by the SWD, the DH and the HA.
- 15.1.2 RCHE(NH)s should make reference to the Guide in drawing up work guidelines on drug management (including the procedures of handling drug incidents) for the compliance of their staff. The home managers shall ensure that all designated staff members who are responsible for handling drugs have received proper training. If applicable, the above-mentioned training should form a part of the induction training and regular training for staff.
- 15.1.3 RCHE(NH)s shall appoint a registered nurse to take overall charge of the drug administration and management for the residents’ drugs. If an RCHE(NH) provides dispensing service, a registered medical practitioner or a registered pharmacist shall be appointed to supervise and take overall charge of the dispensing service.
- 15.1.4 RCHE(NH)s shall strictly follow the prescriptions and the related instructions of registered medical practitioners, registered Chinese medicine practitioners or listed Chinese medicine practitioners to assist residents in using drugs. Any person shall not arbitrarily cease or change the dosages or routes of using drugs without authorisation. Medical advice should be sought if there is doubt.
- 15.1.5 An RCHE(NH) shall ensure that drugs are used on residents prescribed of the drugs and shall not arbitrarily re-distribute the drugs of individual residents or use the drugs on other residents.

- If an automated drug packaging system is used, the RCHE(NH) shall comply with the guidelines and requirements of the Guide.
- 15.1.6 If an electronic drug management system is used, the RCHE(NH) shall comply with the principles stipulated in paragraph 3.3 of Chapter 3 in the Guide, including work procedures, operation guidelines, monitoring mechanisms, protecting personal data, contingencies and requirements of an electronic signature.

- 15.1.8 The handling and supply of drugs shall be in accordance with the requirements of prevailing legislations.
- 15.1.9 RCHE(NH)s shall establish a system to monitor the accuracy of dispensing (if applicable) and administration of drugs. Dispensing (if applicable) and administration records shall be kept and made available for inspection. Drug incidents or near miss incidents shall be documented, reported to the responsible registered medical practitioner, registered nurse in-charge or pharmacist, and handled through a process and within a time frame defined by the management. If a serious drug incident happens in an RCHE(NH) resulting in hospitalisation of the affected resident(s), the RCHE(NH) shall notify LORCHE within 3 calendar days (including public holidays) after the incident. (please refer to paragraph 15.9 of this chapter).
- 15.1.10 In accordance with the Pharmacy and Poisons Ordinance (Cap. 138) and its Regulations, poisons procured shall be regularly checked and documented by a registered pharmacist or registered medical practitioner.

15.2 Drug Storage

In accordance with section 33(1) of the Residential Care Homes (Elderly Persons) Regulation, all medicine kept in an RCHE must, to the satisfaction of the DSW, be kept in a secure and locked place. An RCHE(NH) shall adhere to the following requirements for drug storage –

- 15.2.1 all drugs (including oral, topical and injectable drugs) shall be clearly labelled and stored in a secure place (e.g. locked drug cabinet or room) under the monitoring and in the safe custody of

- designated staff members for drug management. Written procedures shall be in place for the handover of keys at changes of shifts and for safekeeping of spare keys;
- 15.2.2 the drugs of every resident (including drugs that are used when necessary) shall be stored individually in a compartment bearing the resident's name, and each compartment shall only store the drugs of a resident;
- 15.2.3 store oral, topical and injectable drugs separately;

- 15.2.5 dangerous drugs shall be stored in a lockable cupboard and checked at least once a month with record by a registered nurse appointed for the purpose;
- 15.2.6 drugs should be stored in accordance with manufacturers' recommendations. Suitable equipment, which is kept and maintained in good working order, shall be available for storage of drugs requiring special storage conditions (e.g. drugs requiring cold chain storage);
- 15.2.7 RCHE(NH)s shall establish a system to check expiry dates of drugs and disinfectants, regardless of whether these are kept in the store room or refrigerator, put on standby or for emergency use;
- 15.2.8 where there is a cold chain requirement for maintaining the efficacy of drugs, RCHE(NH)s shall establish a system to monitor and record the temperature of the transport and storage facilities. For example, written policies and procedures shall be in place for RCHE(NH)s to store and handle vaccines by taking reference from the "Module on Immunisation" under the "Hong Kong Reference Framework for Preventive Care for Children in Primary Care Settings" promulgated by the Primary Care Office of the DH; and
- 15.2.9 RCHE(NH)s shall have written policies and procedures covering the management of cold chain breach and the control of access to drug storage.

15.3 Dispensing of Drugs

- 15.4.2 The staff responsible for preparing drugs shall record and sign on the MAR immediately after preparing drugs for each resident. Signing in advance and/or on behalf of others is prohibited to ensure accuracy of the record.
- 15.4.3 Unless a designated drug preparation system ³⁶ is used, an RCHE(NH) can only prepare drugs for a maximum period of 24 hours in advance.

³⁶ A designated drug preparation system refers to a multi-day drug preparation system, drug preparation service provided by community pharmacies and an automated drug packaging system. Please refer to paragraph 2.4.6 of Chapter 2 of the Guide for details.

- 15.4.4 If there is any change in the drug prescription of a resident, the RCHE(NH) should update the drug records immediately and prepare drugs according to the latest prescription.

15.5 Giving Drugs

- 15.5.1 An RCHE(NH) should arrange a registered nurse or an enrolled nurse to administer drugs to residents. The drugs should be clearly labelled for administration.

Signing in advance and/or on behalf of others is prohibited to ensure accuracy of the record. Reasons for not using drugs shall be clearly recorded for individual residents who fails to take drugs.
- 15.5.6 An RCHE(NH) should take proper measure for identifying residents with communication problems or cognitive impairment (e.g. names of residents, bed numbers, photos, etc.) to ensure accuracy in giving drugs.
- 15.5.7 RCHE(NH)s should ensure that the drug for resuscitation is easily accessible to staff. The packaging should facilitate the process of resuscitation.

15.6 Record of Drugs

- 15.6.4 Whenever there is any change in the drug prescription of a resident (e.g. change of the prescription by a registered medical practitioner, a registered Chinese medicine practitioner or a listed Chinese medicine practitioner after medical follow-up or discharge from the hospital), the RCHE(NH) should update the IDR and MAR on the same day.
- 15.6.5 A register is maintained on the particulars of the patients receiving pharmaceutical products that are derived from human sources. Examples are plasma and its derivatives.

15.7 Use of Chinese Medicines

If Chinese medicines are used by a resident, the RCHE(NH) shall follow the instructions of a registered Chinese medicine practitioner or a listed Chinese medicine practitioner, and properly keep the relevant information such as the name of the Chinese medicine practitioner, prescription, etc., and record the medicine information (including the prescription number³⁷ for verification of correctness of the Chinese medicines, the dosage forms of the Chinese medicines, the dosages of the Chinese medicines; and frequency, times and routes of administration of the Chinese medicines) and medicine administration condition on the resident's IDR and MAR. Staff members of an RCHE(NH) should also pay attention to paragraph 4.1 of Chapter 4 in the Guide for the points to note on the use of Chinese medicines.

³⁷ RCHE(NH)s should assign an independent number for identification purposes if the Chinese medicine prescription does not have a prescription number.

15.8 Use of Proprietary/Non-prescription Drugs and Self-administration of Drugs

- 15.8.1 An RCHE(NH) should not suggest or encourage residents to use drugs obtained or purchased from sources other than a prescription by a registered medical practitioner, a registered Chinese medicine practitioner or a listed Chinese medicine practitioner (including Chinese and Western medicines or proprietary drugs). If a resident insists on using non-prescription drugs, the staff of the RCHE(NH) should give advice or consult healthcare professionals if necessary. The RCHE(NH) should make a record on the “Confirmation of Request for Giving Proprietary/Non-Prescription Drugs” (Annex 15.1), and mark on the “Personal Health and Nursing Record” of the resident and keep the “Directions for the Use of Drugs” for healthcare professionals’ reference when necessary.
- 15.8.2 If residents administer drugs on their own, RCHE(NH)s should conduct assessments on them to ensure their drug compliance, which includes assessing their abilities to fully understand and follow the prescriptions given by registered medical practitioners, registered Chinese medicine practitioners or listed Chinese medicine practitioners and take drugs on time. RCHE(NH)s should also make sure that the residents can keep the self-administered drugs in secure and locked places, and that nearby residents will not take the drugs mistakenly. Prior written consent of the residents and their guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives shall be obtained using the “Consent Form for Self-storage and Self-administration of Drugs” (Annex 15.2). RCHE(NH)s shall re-assess and renew/terminate the consent forms for at least once every 6 months, and keep records. RCHE(NH)s shall continue to maintain and update the residents’ IDR to regularly monitor and assess their abilities to store and take drugs by themselves, and maintain the relevant records for inspections by inspectors of LORCHE.

15.9 Drug Incidents

Drug incidents refer to the occurrences of any abnormality related to the administration of drugs (e.g. residents failing to follow the prescriptions in using drugs, using others’ drugs mistakenly, using wrong dosages of drugs, using expired drugs, etc.). If a serious drug incident happens in an RCHE(NH) resulting in hospitalisation of the affected resident(s), the RCHE(NH) shall submit a Special Incident Report (Annex 9.3) and a Medication Risk Management Report to LORCHE within 3 calendar days

FSD will adopt a flexible and pragmatic approach to holistically consider the alternative proposals on a case-by-case basis. Subject to achieving the level of fire safety accepted by FSD, alternative measures for certain building fire safety requirements may be adopted, with some examples as follows –

	Specified Fire Safety Design Requirements	Examples of Alternative Measures May be Considered ¹
For the part of the RCHE(NH) situated at a height of more than 24 metres and up to 30 metres above the ground floor and used for dormitory purpose [applicable to both existing	1. Open balcony approach ² ; 4. Refuge floor ² ; 5. Widened escape staircase(s) ² ; 6. Enlarged fireman's lift(s) ² ; and	Provision of smoke free corridor which shall be connected to each dormitory by installation of automatic window-opening system and alternative exits in each dormitory³; and

² These five requirements could be considered being replaced by alternative measures, while the remaining six requirements as listed in the table on "Building fire safety design" continue to apply.

³ The width of the smoke free corridor should be sufficient for the manoeuvring of beds with wheels or wheelchairs. As regards the automatic window-opening system, the total area of windows for smoke discharge should be not less than 2% of floor area and the windows for smoke discharge should be permanently open or automatically open when the system is actuated.

Emergency vehicular access ² ;	Provision of sufficient number of wheelchairs/ stretchers to facilitate vertical evacuation⁴
If part of the RCHE(NH) used for dormitory purpose is situated at a height of more than 30 metres above the ground floor, for the entire part of the RCHE(NH) situated at a height of more than 24 metres above ground and used for dormitory purpose [applicable to purpose-built buildings and institutional buildings under new development projects]	1. Open balcony approach ⁵	Provision of smoke free corridor which shall be connected to each dormitory by installation of automatic window-opening system and alternative exits in each dormitory³

⁴ FSD will advise on the required proportion or number of wheelchairs and stretchers on a case-by-case basis with due regard to various factors, including the availability and size of fireman's lifts, design of escape staircase, etc.

⁵ These two requirements could be considered being replaced by alternative measures, while the remaining nine requirements as listed in the table on "Building fire safety design" continue to apply.

2. Training for adequate number of RCHE(NH) staff #	Training should be provided for an adequate number of staff, so that there will be enough number of trained staff to assist all residents in affected compartment(s) to evacuate to adjoining compartment zone(s) simultaneously in case of fire or other emergencies
3. Formulation of fire safety management plan (FSMP)	The FSMP should cover details of maintenance plan of fire safety provision, staff training plan and fire action plan in case of fire or other emergencies, etc.
4. Total fire safety management	The overall fire safety level should be enhanced by ensuring regular staff training, timely maintenance or inspection of FSI and regular fire safety inspections

 - (c) If a resident is certified by a registered medical practitioner as incapable of managing personal financial matters, the operator and staff of the RCHE(NH) are strictly prohibited to withdraw any bank savings to pay the home fees and other charges on behalf of the resident. (Principle: Restraint refers to a means of limiting a resident's movement so as to minimise harm to himself/herself and/or other residents. An RCHE(NH) should adopt measures to avoid using restraints whenever possible. The use of restraint should only be considered when there are no other less restrictive means available (i.e. after other alternative attempts have proven ineffective) or in case of emergencies and when the safety, health or well-being of the resident and/or other residents is jeopardised. Consent from the persons concerned shall be obtained in advance for the use of restraints.)

(VIII) Special Notes

1. Condition of the resident should be reviewed at least once every 2 hours while under physical restraints.
2. The use of restraint will confine a resident to a seating or lying down position for a long period of time, thus reducing the resident's mobility and joint movement and resulting in muscle contracture.
3. A resident's bones may become brittle and liable to fracture due to the reduction of weight-bearing activities.
4. Swelling of the resident's lower limbs may occur due to reduced blood circulation.
5. Residents under restraint may have negative emotions, such as anger, shame, fear, helplessness, distress, etc.
6. Residents may become bad-tempered and anxious or even have depressive mood as a result of long term use of restraint.
7. Residents under restraint may become more frail and apathetic. They may fall and hurt themselves more easily.
8. Some residents resist restraint very much and may harm themselves or fall when they try to get rid of the physical restraints.
9. As residents' mobility is restricted, they have fewer chances to talk to or get along with others, thus affecting their social well-being.
