

Guidelines on Fees and Charges in Residential Care Homes for Persons with Disabilities

Operators and home managers of residential care homes for persons with disabilities (RCHDs) shall strictly adhere to paragraphs 8.3 and 8.4 of Chapter 8 in the Code of Practice for Residential Care Homes (Persons with Disabilities) and the following guidelines on handling fees and charges –

- (1) RCHDs shall explicitly specify the amount (i.e. the amount per month/per time/per item in HK dollar) of home fees and other charge items (including services or goods) and list the charges to set out clearly all the chargeable items and the charging criteria with the actual amount/unit cost [RCHDs are strictly prohibited from adopting a pricing method without specifying the actual amounts, such as “charging the total Comprehensive Social Security Assistance (CSSA) (including Residential Care Supplement) payment as the home fee”, “charging a fee equivalent to the CSSA amount”, “charging a fee equivalent to the price under the Bought Place Scheme (BPS)”, etc.]. RCHDs should also display a clear list of charges at prominent places in the RCHDs to facilitate access of residents, family members and other people.
- (2) RCHDs shall give the schedule of fees and charges to the residents/their guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives prior to admission and clearly explain to them details of the charges.
- (3) RCHDs shall state the following items clearly in the admission agreement –
 - (a) fee-charging regulations of the RCHD;
 - (b) home fees payable by the resident (i.e. the amount per month in HK dollar) and the specific amounts (i.e. the amount per month/per visit/per service/per item in HK dollar) for items of payable fees for different services/goods (e.g. transportation fees for attending medical appointment, escort fees for attending medical treatment, dressing charges, diaper fees, nutritional milk product charges, air-conditioning fees, etc.) and the detailed information of such charges;
 - (c) arrangement of charging a deposit;
 - (d) deadline for payments and arrangement for handling overdue payments;
 - (e) fee-charging arrangement for residents with long-term hospitalisation;

Any revision (including the formulation of new payable items and fee adjustment) shall be effective only after being signed and confirmed by the RCHDs and the residents/guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives. The follow-up arrangement in the case of the residents/guardians/guarantors/family members/relatives disagreeing to the RCHDs' proposed fee adjustment should also be stated in the admission agreements.
