

Victims of Sexual Violence

If it is so unfortunate that you have come across sexual abuse, keeping it to yourself is not the solution. Finding somebody to talk to is better than shouldering the entire burden on your own. If you want to receive assistance to break away from the trauma of sexual abuse, you may choose our SPECIALISED SERVICE. We are experienced social workers of Social Welfare Department and Tung Wah Group of Hospitals CEASE Crisis Centre and specially trained to provide specialised services for you.

Our Mission

We will provide timely, professional and specialised service with respect, trust and empathy. We will also help you avoid being further traumatized by unnecessary procedures, travelling from place to place or repeating the unpleasant experience from time to time. We will empower you to regain self-confidence and strength to lead a normal life.

Services provided

- (a) 24-hour crisis intervention service to victims of sexual violence;
- (b) co-ordination with the concerned departments/agencies to facilitate the victim to go through the procedures, if necessary, which include:
 - (i) immediate medical examination / treatment including pregnancy prevention and screening of sexually transmitted diseases
 - (ii) medical follow-up, such as treatment for sexually transmitted diseases, gynaecological treatment, HIV, etc.
 - (iii) report to the Police and statement-taking
 - (iv) forensic examination
 - (v) other legal proceedings
- (c) provision of support and company to the victims and their families throughout the process
- (d) referrals to other necessary services, e.g. psychological treatment, financial assistance and temporary accommodation, etc.; and
- (e) case consultation to frontline professionals handling sexual violence cases

Confidentiality

All information provided is treated in strict confidence.
